Historic Bardstown

Bourbon & Beyond

Friday, May 7, 2027

9:00 AM – 8:30 PM

Depart Bardstown at 8:30 PM

Bardstown, Kentucky has long been one of my favorite places, and I'd love to share it with some of my favorite people — YOU! Join Scott and me for a day exploring this beautiful little town and discovering what makes it so special.

Founded in 1780, Bardstown is rich in history, small-town charm, and Kentucky hospitality. Its streets tell stories of pioneers, outlaws, and centuries of bourbon heritage. Explore unique shops, historic sites, restaurants, speakeasies, and bourbon tasting rooms.

But the fun doesn't stop there! An optional Heaven Hill Distillery visit and dinner at the historic Old Talbott Tavern round out our day. Don't be surprised if the tour guide in me comes out along the way!

Explore Historic Downtown Bardstown

Local Restaurants & Good Eats

Mammy's Kitchen — Southern comfort food and Kentucky favorites.

Bardstown Burger — Burgers and casual dining.

Café Primo — Italian-inspired dining.

Scout & Scholar Brewing Co. — Craft beer and pub favorites.

Pat's Place — Homestyle cooking, daily specials, and homemade pies.

These are just a few of Bardstown's many dining options. Take your pick and enjoy some Kentucky hospitality!

Take Time to Wander!

Discover inviting cafés, sweet treats, historic buildings, and hidden treasures along Bardstown's charming streets.

Horse-Drawn Carriage Rides
A horse-drawn carriage is also available downtown! Enjoy a leisurely horse-drawn carriage ride through historic Bardstown, a charming way to experience the downtown scenery.

Shopping & Local Treasures

Browse boutiques, antique shops, art galleries, home décor, Kentucky-made gifts, bourbon souvenirs, and specialty foods.

Bourbon, Cocktails & Speakeasies

3rd Street Tap House — One of Scott's and my favorite stops for a drink and good company!

Old SteelHouse Distillery Tasting Room — A downtown tasting experience Scott and I especially enjoyed.

The Bard Distillery Tasting Room — Small-batch bourbon tastings and bottles.

The Volstead Bourbon Lounge — Prohibition-inspired speakeasy.

Liam Ash Cocktail Emporium — Creative cocktails.
Circa 1856 — Whiskey tastings and cocktails.

Downtown exploration is free. Shopping, meals, beverages, carriage rides, and individual tastings are at each attendee's expense. More information on the reverse.

Discover Historic Bardstown

Old Talbott Tavern — Est. 1779

One of America's oldest stagecoach stops and home to what is billed as the world's oldest bourbon bar! Travelers have included Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Jackson, and Jesse James. Legend says bullet holes left by James remain upstairs.

Group dinner — 6:00 PM

Dinner is at each attendee's expense.

Old Nelson County Jail

Built in 1819, this jail held prisoners for over 160 years, closing in 1987. See historic cells and the courtyard where gallows once stood. Today it is the historic Jailer Inn.

Oscar Getz Museum of Whiskey History

Inside Spalding Hall (1826), discover antique whiskey bottles, advertising, distilling equipment, and Prohibition artifacts spanning more than 200 years of whiskey history.

Admission: FREE — Donations appreciated.

Bardstown Civil War Museum Complex

Explore Civil War artifacts, the Women's Civil War Museum, the General Hal Moore Military Museum, and Old Bardstown Village. One admission covers all four attractions.

Admission: $15 adults; $12 veterans, seniors & first responders.

Bardstown–Nelson County African American Heritage Museum

Located in historic Union Church (1812), this museum preserves the stories, artifacts, and contributions of African Americans who helped shape Bardstown and Nelson County.

Basilica of St. Joseph Proto-Cathedral

Built 1816–1823, this was the first Catholic cathedral west of the Alleghenies. Highlights include historic architecture and European paintings.

Admission: FREE — Donations appreciated.

Heaven Hill Distillery — Optional Bourbon Experience

Join us at Heaven Hill, or remain downtown to enjoy the shops, restaurants, and historic square.

Full guided experience: approximately $55 per person (optional).

Free museum and theater: self-guided exhibits and a 12-minute film.

Optional bourbon tastings: approximately $25 per person.

Tour time and final price TBD after registration closes. Those choosing the guided tour will receive the confirmed amount and payment deadline; advance payment will be required. Participation is entirely optional.

Registration requested by February 1, 2027. Please register by February 1 to help us finalize transportation and ur availability cannot be guaranteed after that date.
